Cooperative Bank of Oromia (S.C.)
Rules and Regulations Governing Saving Accounts

- Any person can open a saving account with not less than birr 50.
- Saving account may be opened in the name of an individual, jointly, in trust, legalized cooperatives and organizations.
- When deposits and withdrawals are made the deposit book must be presented. Withdrawals should be made on the bank's official form after signed by the account holder. Deposits should also be made on the bank's official form signed by the depositor, and initialed and stamped by the cashier. Deposits or withdrawals are possible at the branch where the account is maintained or any branch of the bank. Cheque is not allowed in the operation of saving accounts.
- Amount in saving accounts will attract interest at the rate the bank specifies. The bank pays interest on a monthly basis. The bank may change the rate of interest at any time. Interest will be paid on the minimum outstanding balance between the first and the last day of each month. No interest is calculated on balances less than birr 50.
- Withdrawals up to birr 20,000 can be made on four occasions during each month. The bank, as deemed necessary, reserves the right to 7 and 30 days notice of any withdrawal in excess of birr 20,000 and any substantial withdrawals from the account, respectively.
- Depositors should always quote saving account number and name of the branch when writing to the bank regarding their account or when making deposits or withdrawals.
- When an account is closed the pass book must be handed over to the bank.
- If pass book is lost, it should be reported to the bank quoting its account number. A written and signed statement should accompany request for replacement.
- The depositor shall be held as agreeing and assenting to these rules and regulations and any amendments and alterations that may herein after be made. Any future changes will be part and parcel of the present rules and regulations after it has been put on the bank's notice board for a period of eight days.
